

SRIKAR GUNNAM

I am an Accounting Technician by profession. I am very much interested in software development, but due to my financial crisis during college took me away from engineering, but life has given me an opportunity in the form of Scaler Academy. I will prove myself with my hardwork and dedication.

PROJECTS

Music Player - A web application using React JS

The idea started with having just a play/pause button and progress bar, but added multiple features later on like duration, volume control, mobile responsive. Initial version of this music player was built using vanilla js, but after learning react js, I had refactored the code using react js. Live site can be view at <https://srikargunnam.github.io/musicplayer/>
